DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claim 14 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The term "sufficiently stable" is a relative term which renders the claim indefinite. The term "sufficiently stable" is not defined by the claim, the specification does not provide a standard for ascertaining the requisite degree, and one of ordinary skill in the art would not be reasonably apprised of the scope of the invention.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 14 insofar as definite is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chiodine (3035427).

As seen in figures 1 and 2, Chiodine (3035427) teaches the invention as claimed including a plurality of visually distinct regions, and a plurality of visually indistinct regions (holes) interspersed with said plurality of visually distinct regions, said plurality of visually indistinct regions being defined by holes in the fabric, such that an open fabric effect that is “sufficiently stable” against run-back is achieved, said fabric being knit from a lightweight yarn (y) to visually look like lace and have substantially similar weight per unit as lace. The recitation “sufficiently stable” does not distinguish the claims over the art of Chiodine since the fabric is sufficiently stable as shown and to the extent definite.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-13 are allowed.

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
